Journey Port Clinton, Ohio, to the Liberty Aviation Museum for a day of tribute: Dr. Harold Brown, A Tuskegee Airman

Hear firsthand stories from 94-year-old WWII Pilot, Dr. Harold Brown, as he recounts his time in combat. On his 30th mission, March 14, 1945, Dr. Brown was shot down over enemy territory and was taken as a POW. He shares his personal stories about becoming a black American who entered the Air Force, serving as an air pilot.

An all-inclusive lunch buffet will be served on the museum property at the 1950's era themed O'Mahony stainless steel diner, the Tin Goose Diner.

Enjoy a guided tour of the Liberty Aviation Museum, a one-of-a-kind place showcasing several exhibits on restored and operational aircraft and military equipment – see Georgie's Gal, a WWII B-25 Mitchell Bomber, a U.S. Navy WWII TBM Avenger, PT-boat, a restored 1929 Ford Tri-Motor, and more!
